Demonstrating their talent for sniffing out explosives, three dogs from the K-9 department of the airport division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department were introduced to a group of Romulus youngsters last week. The presentation was staged as part of

Local children meet 'canine cops' at library

Youngsters at the Romulus Public Library witnessed a professional bomb-detection team in action July 26 as part of the summer reading program.

The stars of the show, known as Baba, Hank and Bronzy, literally sniffed out six sticks of dynamite—without the charges—hidden in the building.

Actually, detecting explosives is a full-time job for these trained dogs. They, along with a fourth dog, make up the K-9 Department for the airport division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Presenting the demonstration for the children was the department supervisor/trainer, William Wadsworth, who is also a member of city council.

The children were first told how the program works and how the dogs are trained. Then they saw the team in action.

"These dogs are taught to find 10 different types of explosives," Wadsworth said.

The K-9 program was initiated at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in 1983 when officials operating a similar program in Cleveland decided to discontinue it. With funding from the Federal Aviation Authority, Wayne County deputies and two dogs underwent a training program at the Lackland Air Force Base, in Texas.

Now, if an airplane within a 500-mile radius of Detroit Metropolitan Airport is targeted with a bomb threat, they may be detained in Romulus so the K-9 squad can go into action. The next closest airport utilizing this program is in Milwaukee.

The "detective dogs" are also used to investigate bomb threats locally, such as those in schools or other public buildings.

Sally Wright, one of the first officers to join the local program, said she is with her dog 24 hours a day. The dog is quizzed each week and is rewarded for a job well done. Wright's dog, for example, is satisfied when he is given his favorite ball to play with.

Used for the program are two German shepherds, a labrador retriever mix and a shepherd mix.

"Just whoever's got a really good nose," Wright said.

In order to remain certified by the FAA, the dogs must have a 95-percent success rate. Most of the dogs are trained at ages 18 months to two years and retire after 10 years. The FAA spends approximately $10,000 per dog for training.

Airport woes to be debated

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

During an eight-hour public hearing Aug. 9, residents of Romulus and other communities surrounding Detroit Metropolitan Airport will be given an opportunity to express their concerns about airport expansion and development.

Airport and Wayne County officials will answer questions about airport plans along with recently completed noise- and environmental-impact studies.

The hearing room, in the Ramada Inn, will be divided into three areas. In one a slide show summarizing proposed development will be shown continuously. Proposed is a south access road, new terminal, new runway, runway extension and improvements to existing facilities. The slide show will also review the environmental-impact study.

Another section of the room will be used to brief residents about the changes. Residents will be able to ask questions.

The third section will be reserved as a testimony room with a hearing officer and hearing transcriber.

The hearing is designed so people can come in at any point of the hearing without missing information or a chance to testify, explained Mike Conway, manager of community relations for Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport.

"It's more than an opportunity to voice their opinions,"

Conway said. "There's going to be a lot of information there."

One of the items to be discussed, the Draft Environmental Impact Statement, summarizes anticipated environmental impacts of the proposed developments. The document also summarizes the Part 150 Noise Compatibility Study, which suggests ways to alleviate noise impact to area residents.

The environmental-impact statement is available for review from several local facilities including Romulus Public Library, 11121 Wayne Road and the Wayne County Division of Airports, L.C. Smith Terminal Mezzanine, Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The document is also available at the Wayne/Westland and Belleville public libraries.

For those interested in testifying during the hearing, county officials are accepting reservations. Those attending the hearing without a reservation will also be able to testify. Individuals will be allotted five minutes for testimony. Written comments will also be accepted through Aug. 30.

"The public comment could potentially have an impact on what happens," Conway said.

To make a reservation for testimony, call the airport community relations office at 942-3550. Written comments should be addressed to Richard Jamison, Director, Wayne County Division of Airports, L.C. Smith Terminal Mezzanine, Detroit, Michigan 48242.

Murder suspect to face August trial

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

An Aug. 28 trial date has been set for Inkster resident Florine Horn, in connection with a Romulus shooting which left one man dead.

Horn is charged with first-degree murder.

Romulus police officers arrested the 46-year-old Inkster woman June 2. She has been charged with the shooting death of Danny Ray Fairchild, 34, of Inkster. Fairchild was the boyfriend of Horn's daughter.

Horn has waived her right to a jury trial. Judge Leonard Townsend will decide the case in the Frank Murphy Hall of Justice.

Horn will be defended by Robert Palmer. Prosecuting this case is Joan Clarke.

According to testimony at Horn's preliminary examination at the 34th District Court, the shooting occurred following a series of arguments between Fairchild and Horn.

Fairchild, according to testimony, had repeatedly threatened the life of Horn's daughter and grandchildren.

Fairchild died from shotgun pellet injuries to the head and chest, according to a Wayne County coroner's report.

Horn is being held in the Wayne County jail pending trial.

If convicted of first-degree murder, Horn will face a mandatory sentence of life in prison.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Break-in is reported

A business on the 28000 block of Highland, in Romulus, was the scene of a break-in early Saturday morning, according to police officials.

A north-side door to the building was pried open, according to reports, and several doors inside the building were kicked in.

A cellular telephone valued at $300 was reported missing.

Romulus girl twirls to fame

Taking home national honors, 7-year-old Megan Lynn Wilson, of Romulus, recently won the World Twirling Association National Show Twirl Championship.

Wilson won the twirling award in early July, to the delight of her parents, Billy and Donna, and her grandparents, Alfred and Patricia Lucke.

Wilson won her award at the World Majorette Festival in Pennsylvania. In May, the youngster won the state competition staged in Wyandotte.

In addition to her four-year twirling career, Wilson must find time for her responsibilities as Little Miss Rainbow. In August, with that title, she will participate in the Michigan State Fair Parade.

Right to life meeting is set

The next meeting of Romulus Right to Life will be staged at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 10 at 13311 Cogswell, between Huron River Drive and Hannan.

For more information, call 942-9519 or 941-4602.

Taylor man is charged

An 18-year-old Taylor man has been charged with attempted automobile theft in connection with a July 27 incident on the 6200 block of Hyde Park.

Steven Pitts was arraigned in the 34th District Court Friday. He was able to pay his $5,000 bond and was released. Pitts will face a preliminary examination Aug. 9.

A resident of the Hyde Park neighborhood was awakened at approximately 1:30 a.m. July 27 by the sound of his car being driven away, according to police officials. The car reportedly became stuck and the owner was able to catch up to the car.

Police officials arrested Pitts at the scene.

If found guilty of the charges, Pitts could face a maximum sentence of five years in jail.

Witnesses bag purse snatcher

Witnesses came to the rescue Friday when a woman in a local store was the victim of a purse snatching.

Kippriol Boynton, 24, of River Rouge, has been charged with unarmed robbery.

The suspect was arraigned in Out-County Court Saturday morning. Bond was set at $10,000.

Witnesses report the snatching took place in a store on the 27000 block of Eureka. Several employees and customers chased the suspect from the store and were able to apprehend him and recover the purse, according to police officials. Police officers were then called to the scene.

Mayor serves on government board

For a second term, Mayor Beverly McAnally has been appointed as chairwoman for a special council of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

McAnally will serve on the Community and Economic Development Advisory Council for a term ending in September 1990. Dennis Oakes, director of community development for Romulus, will serve as her alternate.

The CEDAC is concerned with regional, residential, community- and economic-development concerns.

Opting for a job with a scenic view, employees of the Allied Building Service of Detroit cleaned the mirrored walls of the Radisson Hotel on Merriman Monday. The process of cleaning the building usually requires two days for a crew of three. The mirrored

Wick Road improvements are set to begin this fall

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Bids are now being accepted for Wick Road improvements in an effort to break ground on the project before the end of this year, according to officials of the Tax Increment Finance Authority.

City councilmembers

granted approval for this phase of the project last week.

Bid specifications for construction of Wick Road between Wayne and Wickham Road and the remainder of Smith and Vining roads.

Other aspects of the project, pegged for next year, include improvements to Wickham Road and the remainder of Smith and Vining roads.

All of the work within the TIFA district will be funded through a recently approved $8,175,000 bond issue. Bids were opened on the bonds July 18. Shortly after, TIFA awarded the sale of the bonds to Comerica Bank, the lowest of three bidders. Comerica will charge a 6.792 percent interest rate creating a net interest cost of approximately $6.9 million.

The investment into the Wick project is expected to be refunded by tax revenue generated from new developments on the site. The site is pegged for the proposed Metro World Centre development, which would include hotels, conference centers, office buildings, commercial housing, shopping areas and a college facility.

Meanwhile, TIFA officials hope to break ground on the first of the Wick projects by late fall.

Exchange student is at home in Romulus

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

A 15-year-old French student has made Romulus his home for one month this summer.

Patrice Manuel joined the family of Richard and Sandy Schwartz through the Nacel Summer Hosting Program. In addition to host parents, Manuel gained two teen-age brothers, Chris and Robb.

When Manuel decided to participate in the summer-exchange program with his cousin, he stressed on the application his love for sports and animals. Apparently, the Schwartz family has not disappointed him.

Fitting as many activities as possible into his brief visit, Manuel and the Schwartzes have visited the Upper Peninsula, gone water-skiing on Belleville Lake, attended an American wedding, went fishing, played basketball, played tennis and sampled some television video games.

The Schwartzes, who decided to become a host family after hearing about the program in the newspaper, said they are enjoying every minute with Manuel. In order to participate, they were required to provide letters of recommendation, fill out questionnaires and participate in interviews.

Now, they only have a week left with Manuel.

"We'll miss him very much. He fits in real well with the family," Sandy said.

"We've just loved having him," Richard added.

Manuel said he feels comfortable in Romulus. He comes from a small town near the Alps and the Italian border.

One of the differences from home, he said, is American eating habits. In France, meals are eaten four times a day at set times. The evening meal, at 7 or 8 p.m., is the largest.

"Here we eat all the time, whenever we want," Manuel said.

Of the American cuisine he has sample so far, Manuel has singled out hamburgers and Twinkies as his favorites.

Manuel is also impressed with the people he has met.

"I like it. Here the people are friendly. In France they are too, but not like here," he said.

For Manuel, being immersed in an English-speaking world has been somewhat of a challenge. English is a required language in his school, but adjusting to slang and fast-talkers has been difficult.

Already an experienced traveler, Manuel has visited Spain, Italy and England. Although he doubts he can be Surrounded by his new family, Patrice Manuel (top, center), 15, of France says he feels right at home. Cable cently married a Romulus resident and says he is happy with the community.

Woodworth's appointment to the cable commission marks his first experience at the governmental end of cable programming. Previously, his talents have been reserved for the technical work.

Woodworth's introduction to the cable industry occurred in 1980, when a friend from Oregon asked for his help in starting a company.

Woodworth was selected for the new company because of his background in engineering and drafting. "He pretty much took me under his wing," Woodworth recalled.

Woodworth was working in the middle of the cable industry when the technology first caught on as an affordable option for communities.

Now, he said, approximately 50 percent of the people in this country have cable television. "With that many people buying your service, your program starts to have an impact," Woodworth said.

A real benefit of cable is the opportunity for local programming, Woodworth said, the chance to add community flavor. Programs about local church groups or high school events will always be of interest, he said.

As a member of the Romulus Cable Commission, Woodworth will now have a hand in cable programming. Since he joined the commission in April, the priority has been the establishment of a community-access channel to accompany the existing government channel.

The most difficult part of cable programming, Woodworth said, is coordinating efforts of the community and utility representatives.

"It's getting past the red tape," Woodworth said.

For the next decade, Woodworth predicted improved picture quality for cable through the use of fiber optics.

"I'm hoping to see more consolidations," Woodworth added. "Larger companies have a large stake in the community. They are more apt to meet community needs."

Postmaster sworn in

A new postmaster was sworn in Friday at the U.S. Post Office, on Huron River Drive, in New Boston. Marcella Longman (left), of Dearborn, has actually been performing the duties of postmaster since May 20. The swearing-in was more of a ceremonial event, she said. Longman is not new to positions of authority. Since she began her career with the United States Postal Service in 1975, she has served as postmaster in Lake-land, Salem and Gregory. During the ceremony, Longman was serenaded with a short song by Ed Dulecki (right) of E.S. Dulecki Realty. ANP photo by Werner Slocum/staff photographer

Customs Day nets recognition in area

More than 700 counties and municipalities in Michigan have signed honorary proclamations declaring Monday as United States Customs Day. Among the area signers were the cities of Wayne, Westland and Romulus, Van Buren Township and the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, said Cathy Horste, of Belleville, inspector and historian for the U.S. Customs Service. Horste, who is co-author of Water Under the Bridge, a history of Van Buren Township, has been active in local historical endeavors prior to working on the bicentennial celebration of the customs service.

The second act of the First Congress created the U.S. Customs Service on July 31, 1789 — primarily to provide revenue for the fledgling country which was nearly bankrupt after fighting the Revolutionary War. The mission of the U.S. Customs Service remains basically unchanged today — protecting American interests, securing the revenue and defending the border, said USCS officials. However, the emphasis has changed today with activities centering on drug interdiction and implementation of the Free Trade Act with Canada.

The Detroit District was created in 1799, and items of customs history can be viewed in the lobbies of the Federal Building, Detroit, and at the Detroit and Canada Tunnel and the Ambassador Bridge. "It has been a very interesting and pleasant experience," Horste said. "Many people called to tell us that they were not aware of the extensive work of the customs service. One community representative told us that they passed our information along to the local schools, because he felt it was so informative."

H & R Block to Offer Tax School In Belleville Area

Thousands of people are learning the skill of income tax preparation from H & R Block and are earning money as income tax preparers. H & R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, is offering a basic income tax course starting September 6th, 7th, and 9th, with morning, afternoon, evening and Saturday classes available. Classes will be offered at many convenient area locations.

During the 13 week course, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block instructors will teach current laws, theory and application, as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom discussion on each tax subject and practice problems at every level. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging.

Courses are ideally suited for people who want to increase their tax knowledge and learn how to save money on taxes or who are looking for a rewarding career. No prerequisites are required to enroll.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H & R Block.

One low course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for the completion of the course. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course. Master, Visa, and Discover cards are accepted, or a time payment plan is available.

Registration forms and a brochure for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting H & R Block office at

Beetle battle

Area residents plagued by 'new' Dutch elm disease

By JOAN MARY DYER
Belleville City Editor

Although western Wayne County residents are fearful that a new plague of Dutch elm disease has infected their trees, the leaf damage this summer is due to beetle infestation and is "curable," said area landscapers and park workers.

The problem was identified in Belleville earlier this summer after numerous residents reported "Dutch elm" disease had infected their trees, and requested that the diseased trees be cut down. An investigation revealed that the trees were infested with elm leaf beetles - a curable problem - which can be controlled with spraying.

Belleville landscape designer Keith Bruder diagnosed the local problem - infestation by the elm leaf beetle, a one-quarter-inch long, brownish-yellow insect which feeds on the leaves and eventually "skeletonizes them." The area elm leaf beetle infestation also was confirmed by other landscaping firms and nurseries and area public works departments.

Reports of heavy elm tree infestation by the beetles has also been recorded by the public works department in Wayne.

The concern of city officials, landscapers and park directors throughout the area is that people, who incorrectly believe their trees have Dutch elm disease, will cut them down, and the communities will lose some trees which could be saved.

All species of elm trees can be attacked by the leaf beetles, said the landscaper. The beetles eat small holes in the elm tree leaves, causing a "lacy" look. Unlike Dutch elm disease, which can be identified by bare branches in the canopies and specific areas of the trees, the beetle-infected elms have the tell-tale, lacy-leaf appearance throughout the trees. The leaves on some of the formerly healthy trees have turned brown and many leaves have fallen.

Area landscapers noted that black larvae emerge from the eggs deposited in the trees and, after feeding for several weeks, pupate. Bright yellow pupae can be seen around the base of the trees in late June or early July, he said, and after the adults emerge, more leaf damage will occur from the new generation of pests.

Experts speculate that the large number of beetles are due to the hot, long summer last year, which prompted the proliferation of the beetles. In a normal season, the beetles do not cause extensive damage to elm trees, they said.

Tree sprays can kill the beetles, a measure which may be too late to prevent damage at this time, but can be effective in early June next year. However, spraying the ground surrounding the trees can reduce the number of eggs which will hatch next season, the landscaper said.

Tree owners can spray their trees when the damage is first noticed, and then repeat if the tree becomes reinfested. The masses of pupae (grubs) around the base of the tree can be destroyed by wetting the soil with a special solution.

People with tree problems can consult their lawn care service or an exterminator company. Information also is available from the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service Hotline, 494-3011, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Election readiness

Filing deadline nears for primary voters

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

With filing deadlines behind them, candidates and city clerks in several area communities are preparing for the election ahead of them.

Two of the three communities staging elections this fall - Westland and Romulus - will have primary elections Sept. 12. Primary elections are staged to narrow the field of candidates.

In Westland, five people will vie for the office of mayor and 13 people are seeking four city council posts.

Three people are running for mayor in Romulus. With only 12 candidates pursuing seven city council seats, a council primary will not be necessary. The city clerk and treasurer are running unopposed.

In Wayne, seven candidates will seek four city council posts.

Those who have not already registered to vote, have until Aug. 14 to register with the city clerk for the September primaries. To vote in the Nov. 7 general election, residents must register by Oct. 9.

In addition to seeking votes, candidates for all city posts are obligated by the Michigan Campaign Finance Act to disclose all contributions to their campaigns as well as all expenditures.

As soon as someone becomes a candidate, he or she has 10 days to form an election committee. That committee must be registered within 10 additional days. Some candidates may choose to be the only member of their election committee.

Members of the committee must continue the disclosure process by supplying the names and addresses of all banks where campaign funds are deposited to the city clerk.

Locally, candidates will have to file the itemized list of expenditures and contributions up to four times in one year. For those participating in a primary, statements are due Sept. 1 and Oct. 12. For the November election, statements are due Oct. 27 and Dec. 7. If elected, candidates must submit an annual report during non-election years.

"It's worse than doing your taxes," said Romulus City Clerk Linda Choate.

On the statement forms, candidates must list all direct contributions, money, or gifts in kind, such as food for fundraisers or campaign signs. The names and addresses of all contributors must be included.

Debts owed to or by the election committee must also be listed.

If a candidate stages a fundraiser, complete details are required: where and when it was staged, the number of people who attended and the cost of tickets. The candidate must indicate how much money was spent for the event and the amount of profit.

However, candidates may avoid filing these pre- and post-election reports if they indicate they will spend less than $1,000 on their campaigns.

All of the campaign reports filed with the county become public property, available for inspection.

NEPAL: ROOFTOP OF THE WORLD

Nestling high up in the Himalayn Mountains at the rooftop of the world is Nepal, the friendliest of the Himalayan kingdoms. Its colorful capital city, Kathmandu, is within sight of the world's tallest mountain, Mt. Everest, towering 29,028 feet into the sky.

Nepal is famous for its folk dancing, its arts and crafts, and for the opulence of its temples and palaces, among many other wonders. You can ride an elephant to Tiger Tops Jungle Lodge and wait silently for a glimpse of a Bengal tiger. The country abounds in wildlife, with many exotic species, including leopards, barking deer, painted storks, and the white ibis.

Nepal once marked the end of the European overland trail, but today this friendly mountain kingdom attracts visitors from all over the world to view the reminders of its rich history and to enjoy its distinctly oriental hospitality.

Building castles in the sand

County park is fortress for architectural masterpieces

By CHRISTINE McCLOSKEY
ANP Special Writer

The theme song to the movie "Rocky" blared at noon Sunday on the Nankin Mill beach volleyball courts, in Westland.

The event was the "We're Building Castles in the Sand" competition sponsored by the Wayne County parks department and the Detroit chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Participants - mostly architects and their families - brought sand pails, buckets, shovels, flattening boards, rakes, wheelbarrows, molds, water-soluble paints and flatware for the more intricate aspects of their designs.

The builders had three hours to construct their "sand castle," which could have been of the modern or medieval variety, and they did so with intense teamwork.

Although the volleyball courts were capable of hosting six teams, only three participated this year.

This is the second year for the event, which has become a real family affair. Next year designers may be given two days to complete their masterpieces, according to Vic Chaisson, director of special events for the parks.

The defending champions, the Warlords, worked with zeal to keep the coveted traveling trophy, a bronzed sand pail and shovel.

The Warlords, all graduates of the University of Detroit, worked from a cardboard model which sat atop the central mound of their castle, called Mordor.

Mordor was named for the ominous land beyond the shire in J.R.R. Tolkien's fantasy series, The Lord of the Rings and resembled the traditional sand castle with towers and a moat.

Upon completion, Mordor was home to four towers complete with cathedral windows. The towers surrounded a hollowed-out stadium structure. An impressive wall extended from the front gate and Mordor was surrounded by a moat.

The Sandcrabs built a similar structure, calling it Crab Castle.

The Crab Castle, with its flags and strategic moat, looked more like an ancient monastery or the abode of a medieval king, rather than a home for crabs.

The Sandcrabs, a group of architects who work for various firms, also participated in the contest last year.

Team member Ken Brower said they learned from their mistakes.

As the 3:00 deadline neared, the teams put finishing touches on their castles, and the judges began pacing the courts, deciding which structure would be named the winner.

The judges, two from the American Institute of Architects and one from the Wayne County parks, made their choice based on the criteria of concept, originality and execution.

The new champions were from Tiseo & Associates in Farmington Hills.

The Tiseo Group was at the site early, barbecuing and preparing themselves for the event.

Second-year team member Dave Matousek, of Bay City, said they were held back last year because the walls of their castle kept caving in, but this year they were more prepared.

Tiseo's entry, "Earth, Fire and Water", did not resemble the traditional form of a sand castle.

Working from a blueprint, the winning team fashioned their modern sculpture to look like something from the 21st century or a science-fiction movie.

"Earth, Fire and Water" consisted of three slanting walls which formed an incomplete square. In the center was a large half-sphere, and consecutively smaller half-spheres trailed out the open end of the square.

"They're pretty contemporary in their design," said Chris Tiseo, wife of architect Ben Tiseo.

"My favorite is 'Earth, Fire and Water'," said spectator Bert Green, a salesman from Southfield. "The overall architecture inspires me to think. I've never seen a sand castle like it."

Tiseo team captain John Marusich was delighted with the outcome.

"We wanted to make it a sand sculpture as opposed to a sand castle," he said, "Now all we have to do is find a client who will build this."

Careful concentration and keen organization were the keys to success for Ken Brower (above) and other members of the Sandcrabs sandcastle-building team. However, members (left) of the Warlords - a group of graduates from the University of Detroit - thought they would be the obvious nemesis to the Sandcrabs, with their statuesque Mordor castle.

by Werner
Slocum

The sand-castle builders were primarily from the architectural trade, but that didn't prevent the creation of a few sand castles "on the side." Hard at work on his own creation was 17-month-old Preston Alman (above), of Plymouth.

After all of the sand structures were in place, the finishing touches were added. Margaret Korczyk, a member of the Sandcrabs, adorned her team castle with flags. Nevertheless, the true display of talent was determined by the judges, who named the Farmington Hills-based firm of Tiseo & Associates the winner. Accepting the trophy for the team was John Marusich (above).

Apologies are in order, it appears.

A sacred promise was broken last week, and it seems that amends must be made...either that or the phone calls and letters will continue. Those incidents are easier handled, however, than the public harassment making it difficult to show my face in local retail establishments.

It appears that I had the audacity first of all to print a recipe last week which contained coconut (something I publicly vowed NEVER to do) and compounded my crime by not testing the creation. True, I admitted I didn't test the concoction, but I'm informed by several local cooks that such carelessness and lack of attention to detail is singularly unappreciated.

To compensate for my error of last week will take something exemplary, outrageous and excellent, I know. It will also have to be easy to prepare, appeal to nearly everyone and contain ingredients one does not have to travel to a foreign country to obtain nor mortgage one's children to pay for.

Done. While I was saving this one to pull out when real desperation struck, I figure if I want to salvage my reputation, and my neck, now is the time to share the real secret of the Grand Pecan Ball from The Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island. Lest anyone think this is easy to get, think again. This dessert is everything but copyrighted to the Grand, and is a trademark of the dining room at the hotel. It has been imitated by the best cooks in the country, but it has never been matched.

Finding out how to do it, however, isn't an easy task. I found that whining, begging and groveling at the feet of the pastry chef worked wonders. I do believe he gave me the recipe merely to get rid of me so he could get on with preparing dinner for 600 or so people. (It was a slow night.)

Please enjoy this. There are shortcuts that can be taken, and bottled fudge can be used. It won't be as good and won't taste anything like the one the entire Michigan Press Association cheers, stomps and applauds for when served at the presidential dinner each year though.

Grand pecan ball

1 quart vanilla ice cream
2 cups chopped pecans

Using an ice cream scoop or large spoon, form the ice cream into individual large balls and place on frozen cookie sheet. Roll frozen ice cream balls in chopped pecans until completely covered, and return to freezer immediately. Keep frozen completely until serving.

For the sauce:

1/4 pound butter
1 pound powdered sugar
1 can evaporated milk (tall) OR
1/4 cup heavy cream
1/2 pound chocolate (1/4 bitter and 1/4 milk chocolate)
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Put all the ingredients for the sauce, except vanilla, into a double boiler and heat over medium temperature. Cook and stir for 30 minutes. Cool the sauce and beat in the vanilla.

To serve, pour the warmed fudge sauce over the frozen pecan covered balls in individual desserts dishes.

SIMPLE, YET SENSATIONAL

Fine cooking is matter of moods for this woman

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Admittedly, Sarah Harris is often reluctant to cook for her family. She considers cooking more of a chore than a pleasure.

When she does feel like cooking, however, look out!

"When I'm in the mood, I can put together a real humdinger," the Wayne resident boasted.

Harris has been known to prepare elaborate creations in the kitchen. Two of her specialties, funnel cakes and egg rolls, are usually considered to be time-consuming, challenging recipes.

"When I do it, I do it big," she laughed.

After many successful attempts, Harris has managed to simplify her favorite recipes. Making funnel cakes is not difficult when a deep fryer and "funnel pourer" are used, she explained. The pouring device, similar to a pitcher, allows the cook to create the swirling effect needed for the cakes.

Harris uses her finger to control the flow. Also important is the oil, which must be hot enough — approximately 400 degrees.

Harris' advice for preparing egg rolls is to fry them in peanut oil, which allows for even cooking and prevents burning. The egg-roll wrappers are found in the produce section of most grocery stores, she said.

Creativity is another tip for successful egg rolls, Harris said. In addition to traditional fillings, Harris uses unusual vegetables and meats, such as chicken.

Once again, when the mood strikes, Harris loves to experiment, especially with casseroles. Her latest concoction was a layered spaghetti-casserole, using the noodles with meat, sauce and cheese. The dish was a hit, she explained.

These bursts of creativity would probably amuse Harris' mother. Smiling, she recalls the frustration her mother displayed as she tried to interest Harris in the culinary arts.

"I enjoyed reading more. I had to learn, but I didn't really enjoy it then. It's a big joke in our family," Harris explained.

Sometimes, Harris still does not enjoy cooking. On those days, she either asks her husband to cook or she resorts to traditional standbys, such as barbecuing on the grill or preparing meat loaf.

Edna's funnel cakes

3 eggs
2 cups milk
3 1/2 cups flour
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
Confectioner's sugar

Beat eggs. Add milk and sugar. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Add to egg and milk mixture. Beat until smooth. The mixture should be the same consistency as pancake batter. Heat oil in a deep fryer to 400 degrees. Fill a funnel with 3/4 cup batter. Swirl over hot oil. Fry until golden brown. Using tongs, turn to fry the other side. Remove cake and place on brown paper bag to drain excess oil. Sift confectioner's sugar over cakes and enjoy!

Note: If the batter is not of pancake consistency, add more milk until it is.

Egg rolls

Egg-roll wrappers
1 beaten egg
1 tablespoon flour

1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons water
Peanut oil for frying
(Vegetable oil may be substituted)

For the filling:

2 8-ounce packages fresh bean sprouts
1/4 pound diced onion (optional)
1/4 pound finely cut meat (chicken or pork)
1/4 pound tili shrimp
1/4 teaspoon soy sauce
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
2 teaspoons peanut or vegetable oil

Heat 2 tablespoons oil in wok or large frying pan to 375 degrees. Stir-fry ingredients for filling 5 to 8 minutes. Stir constantly.

Combine egg, flour, cornstarch, salt and water. Set aside. With 1 corner of wrapper pointing toward you, place 2 rounded teaspoons of filling just above the corner. Fold the corner over the filling and tuck it under the filling. Roll once and fold left and right corners to close the roll. Seal tips with a small amount of the egg mixture. Let the roll dry a minute or two. Dip the whole roll into egg mixture. Heat oil in wok or frying pan to 400 degrees. Fry rolls until golden brown. Preparation time for this recipe is 45 minutes. Yields approximately 12 egg rolls.

Butter cake

1 cup margarine
4 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sugar
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup buttermilk

For the butter sauce:
1 cup sugar

1/4 cup water
1/2 cup margarine
1 tablespoon vanilla

Cream margarine. Add sugar. Blend in 1 egg at a time. Combine flour, salt, baking powder and soda. Combine buttermilk with vanilla. Add milk and flour mixtures alternately to creamed mixture, ending with dry. Mix well. Turn into greased 10-inch tube or bundt pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 60 to 65 minutes.

Combine in saucepan sugar, water and margarine. Heat until butter melts. Add vanilla. Poke holes into top of baked cake with a fork. Pour sauce slowly over cake while it is in the pan. Cool before removing.

Wesson oil cake

2 cups sugar
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cocoa
2 cups cold water
1 cup Wesson oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix dry ingredients in large bowl. Add liquids. Beat with fork. Pour into greased and floured 9-by-13-inch pan. Bake for 35 to 40 minutes at 350 degrees.

Pineapple slush

3 cups boiling water
2 cups sugar
1 12-ounce can frozen orange juice concentrate (do not dilute)
1 1/2 quarts lemonade
6 ripe, mashed bananas
1 can crushed pineapple (16 to 17 ounces)

Mix all ingredients and freeze. Makes easy treat for hot, summer days.

Last call: City championship golf tourney deadline is Friday

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

If you haven't signed up for the 1989 City Championship Golf Tournament you have until 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 4 to do so. That's the deadline for the two-day, 36-hole summer classic.

The 30th annual city championships will be conducted Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 12-13, at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton Township.

Kevin Ryan of Inkster is the defending champ. Last year, Ryan shot back-to-back 74s to give him a two-day, 36-hole total of 148 to win his second consecutive, third overall, tournament title.

The tournament is organized to determine the city (and township) medalists and state teams for the cities of Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Garden City, Romulus and Canton Township. Separate city championships are held simultaneously for amateur men golfers of all the participating cities. There will be additional flights only if the total entry from a community warrants it.

Trophies will be awarded to the first, second and third place finishers of the championship and other flights. There will also be an additional trophy to the individual low scorer (medalist) for the entire field.

Wayne golfers will also be competing for the Patrolman Len Anderson Traveling Trophy, offered by the Wayne Police Department. Anderson was the first police officer slain in the line of duty in the city of Wayne.

To enter the tournament, golfers are asked to fill out the registration blank accompanying this story. Registration fee for the two-day tournament is $39, which will cover green fees and trophy costs.

The tournament is also set up to determine the state teams for the participating cities. The low five scorers from each of the cities are eligible to play on the city team in the state parks and recreation championship. The state finals will be conducted on Sept. 23 at Binder Park in Battle Creek.

Entries will be accepted at the offices of the Associated Newspapers, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne. For further information contact Tom Mooradian, ANP staff writer at 729-4000.

Steroids have arrived in the high schools

By TERRY JACOBY
ANP Staff Writer

School officials realize that steroid use is a growing problem and the drug is being used in almost every high school in the country. Locally officials are braced for what could become a hometown problem.

"I'm sure we have some, I'd be kidding myself if I didn't think it existed here," John Glenn High School Athletic Director Jerry Szukaitis said. "But I am not aware of it. I haven't heard that people are using steroids here at Glenn."

Szukaitis has already begun to educate athletes at Glenn about the dangers of steroids. Literature about the side effects and long-term consequences of using the drug is plastered on the weight room wall.

Glenn football coach Chuck Gordon agrees that the drug is being used in the high schools and discusses the dangers with his players.

"I don't know of any of our players using them, and I certainly wouldn't allow it," he said. "We alert our players of the dangers. It's a very harmful drug."

"We want the kids to know that steroids are a dangerous drug," Szukaitis said.

Plymouth-Canton Athletic Director Paul Cummings has not heard of any steroid use in either Plymouth-Canton or Plymouth-Salem high school.

"To my knowledge steroids aren't being used here," he said. "But statistics show that they are in the high schools and we have to be ready to deal with them. They fall under our substance abuse rules."

A report last year in the Journal of the American Medical Association revealed that 6.6 percent of male high school

For Wayne resident Patrick Walsh (above) there is only one way to bulk-up. Walsh, who works out regularly at the Wayne Community Center, prefers an old-fashioned workout of weight-lifting, eating good foods and hard work. "I don't like steroids," he said. "To me they are defeating the purpose of what I want to accomplish." ANP photo by Werner Slocum/staff photographer

Belleville begins accepting 'pay to play' fees

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville High school officials tomorrow will begin accepting fees from athletes who are planning to participate in fall sports.

School officials announced that they will accept the $250 from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. in the high school athletic office located at 501 West Columbia.

The fees were initiated to help defray the costs of the varsity sports program after voters in the Van Buren School District rejected a board proposal for additional millage. To cut costs, the school board decided to eliminate varsity sports, music and other extracurricular activities.

However, the board was receptive to a proposal offered by Michael Colletta, athletic director, that would raise the necessary funds for varsity sports by charging individual athletes to pay.

Past precedent for such fundraisers had been set in the 1970s when the school board, faced with similar circumstances, permitted the athletic department and Tiger Booster Club to organize fundraisers.

Colletta, however, stressed that "payment of the fee by the athlete in no way guarantees that the student will participate in contests or events."

Fees also will be accepted at the high school from 9 to 11 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 7; Wednesday, Aug. 9; and Friday, Aug. 11. If an athlete can't pay on those days, he or she may do so from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. or from 1 to 3 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 14; Tuesday, Aug. 15 or Wednesday, Aug. 16.

According to school officials, the school district "shall provide anonymous participation scholarship for hardship cases. Applications for a scholarship may be obtained in the athletic office, from a coach, or the student's counselor and submitted to the superintendent's office for determination."

Officials added that federal guidelines will be used to determine a student's need.

The coaching lineup for the 1989 fall sports season has been announced: Dave McCahey (Football); Michael Garland and Debbie Thomas (Girls Basketball); Sam Vicchy (Boys and Girls Cross Country); Chuck Hundley (Boys Soccer); Greg Cooper (Girls Swimming); Susan McCahey (Girls Tennis) and Ted Grignon (Co-ed Golf).

Belleville students who have questions about the fall sports program or the 'pay to play' policy are urged to contact Colletta at 697-9133.

Hershey is sweet to Inkster athletes

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With a trip to Hershey, Pennsylvania as their goal, Inkster athletes brought home five gold medals and a dozen others at the prestigious Great Lakes Region Hershey Track & Field competitions.

The competitions, open to athletes 9 through 14, were staged last week in Howell, (Michigan). About 50 athletes from Inkster vied for medals and the right to compete at the nationals to be conducted Pennsylvania, home of the famous Hershey candy bars.

"Our kids performed well at this meet," said Ron Wolkowicz, director of parks and recreation for the city of Inkster. "We're proud not only of their performances but the way they conducted themselves on and off the field."

The regional meet drew young athletes from across the state of Michigan.

Inkster placed first in the boys 400-meter relay for 11 and 12 year-olds as Kemoni Bozeman teamed with his brother

Billy Bozeman, Maurice Ballard and Charles Purvis to turn in a sparkling first-place performance.

Inkster also had the best 400-meter relay team in the field for boys, ages 13-14, thanks to the first-place efforts of Freddie Taylor, Greg Prewitt, Steven Williams, and Marcus Harris.

The city continued to dominate the relays as Milik Hood, Darryl Lockhart, Yashron Willis and Andre Baker left their rivals in their wake in the 400-meters.

Inkster also boasted an individual gold medalist in Irene Willis, who won the softball throw competition. Teammate Charnell Lynn proved to be the best 200-meter sprinter, placing first in the event.

Kemoni Bozeman returned home with a couple of other medals. In the standing long jump, he finished third; in the 200-meter dash, the young athlete crossed the finish line fourth.

Inkster had the third best 400-

Camp time

High school football teams, coaches, and players will report to camp next week to get into shape for their 1989 debuts. The prep grid season will begin on Friday, Sept. 1 with non-conference games. One of the top pre-season picks is Dearborn Heights Robichaud where junior running back Tyrone Wheatley will be returning to veteran coach Bob Yauck's lineup. Wheatley, hampered with injuries last year could, be the No.1 back in the state in 1989. ANP file photo

Demolition derby planned in Belleville

No one likes to see a dent on their car. It leaves you frustrated, and sometimes down right angry.

But, on Sunday, Aug. 13, there will be scores of drivers in the Belleville area trying to not only dent, but to destroy cars from the arena.

However, it'll all be in the spirit of competition as Belleville again hosts the Demolition Derby, which will be part of the Wayne County Fair.

The derby is one of the motorsports that is among the most popular and exciting programs.

Sanctioning this year's destructive thriller is U.S.A. Demolition Derby Inc., a Michigan-based firm that has overseen the destruction, literally, of hundreds of cars. The 1989 event should be particularly interesting as it will bring together local and area car crunchers who won't have to worry about auto insurance or the lack of it.

An entry list of about 20 brave drivers is expected, according to Ellwood "Sonny" Hall, derby president. Anyone with a suitable car and enough bravery is invited to compete at this year's fair. There is a $20 entry fee, and that may prove to be a good investment because derby winners can win as much as $900.

Drivers are restricted to a single car. It must be driven daringly enough to survive preliminary heats and, of course, fend off the challenges of the final rounds.

From the grandstands, most automotive entries appear as if they are refugees from the local scrap yard. And, indeed, that's where some are headed after they compete in the derby.

Most, however, have subtle modifications that have taken owners and mechanics hours to put into place.

Wheel wells are cut for tire clearance and oversized tires may be mounted. A small armored fuel tank is securely mounted. The stock gas tank is removed.

Drivers may also cut holes in the front sheet metal to allow more air to the tortured cooling system. Hoods are wired shut and the engine is chained down to keep it from falling out when motor mounts snap.

The amount of punishment one of these cars can take is amazing. Although some

The Demolition Derby, one of the more popular and thrilling events, will return to Belleville when the 1989 Wayne County Fair is staged Aug. 13 at the fairgrounds. Several local and area drivers will be competing for the $900 in prize money. ANP special photo motorsport lunch is needed by the winner, there is a specialized driving skill evident at each turn of the steering wheel.

Derby

Demolition derbies have thrilled crowds from coast to coast.

Fans should expect to pay $5; $3 for children.

For additional information, telephone the Wayne County Fairgrounds or U.S. A. Demolition Derby, Inc. at 483-0574.

Everything is fair in demolition racing except direct hits to the driver's doors or head-on collisions. However, hits must be aggressive. The simple contact within the time limit doesn't constitute combat and could lead to disqualification, derby officials said.

American full-bodied passenger cars or station wagons are the cars usually driven and drivers come from all over - in the past Inkster, Romulus and Belleville drivers have been represented in the arena.

And the car most drivers use?

According to officials, the Chevy is the No. 1 favorite of the drivers. But the field also sees the huge Chrysler Imperials of the mid-1960's, but these massive monsters were built in limited quantities and are difficult to come by.

meter team in the field for girls 11-and-12-year-old category. Claiming bronze medals were Latresha Dick, Charnell Lynn, Akayla Price and Lawanda Lockhart.

Others who turned in notable performances included:

- Latresha Dick, who finished seventh for 11-12 year olds in the girls standing long jump;

• Greg Prewitt, who was fifth in the 13-14 age group in the 200-meter dash;

• Darryl Lockhart, who was fourth in the 100-meter dash for 9-10 year olds;

• Milik Hood, who placed fourth in the 200-meter dash for 9-10 year olds and;

• Tracie Hood, who finished seventh in the 50-meter dash for 9-10 year olds.

The Michigan delegation to the national invitational track & field meet at Hershey will be announced later this month, officials announced.

Steroids

seniors - and as many as 500,000 adolescents nationwide - have used steroids.

And many of the high school athletes take the drug to improve their chances of making the team or improving their chances for a college scholarship.

Steroids, which are synthetic male hormones, help speed up the body-building process and it is much quicker and much easier than the natural process.

"We will have the results of how big the problem is later this summer," said John Roberts, executive director of the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

"I'm sure it's a growing level. Right now the penalties are left to the local school districts, but we are considering a policy," he said.

Golf

There is bad news, and good news for Romulus golfers. The bad news is that the Romulus Parks and Recreation officials last week canceled their city golf tournament scheduled for July 29-30.

The good news is that there is still time for those golfers who want to play for the Romulus city title to compete in the City Championships.

"We will be happy to accept those golfers from Romulus who wish to play in the city championships," said Bill Hawley, tournament manager. "As always, we will always attempt to accommodate those players."

Joy is Flat Rock winner

A weather-perfect evening greeted race fans and drivers at Flat Rock Speedway as Joy Fair (late Models), Dan Leppen (Figure 8) and Steve Cronenwett (Street Stocks) picked up their second victories of the 1989 season.

The 30-lap ARCA Late Model feature was hotly contested at Flat Rock started by the lead from Romulus into the lead and kept back Fair, Steve Bunge, Mark Johnson, Terry Cook and Dave Kuhlman for the initial 12 laps.

Boyle retains softball crown

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

There's a saying in sports that 'A tie is like kissing your sister', and Pat Boyle Chevrolet in Belleville knows that feeling.

The title-bound Belleville softball club was forced to settle for a tie with John Rogin Buick when officials called the game after one hour and 10 minutes because of a 11 p.m. curfew in Livonia.

With the score tied at 3-all, the game was called. However, the half-point clinched the Class A men's modified fast-pitch softball championship for the Belleville team. They eked the title out from Total Foods of Plymouth and Rogin's of Wayne.

In the crucial finale, Tom See and Tim McCrohan each drilled two hits in three appearances for Rogin's, while Don Dreher led the champs with a perfect three for three.

Boyle drew first blood as they scored one run in the first inning on a RBI groundout by Scott Collins. Rogin's responded in the second on a triple by McCrohan. He raced home with the errant relay throw. Then Don Dreher came through with a run-scoring single to put Boyle ahead, 2-1. See added a sacrifice fly for the equalizer.

Dreher singled in the fourth after two were out, then proceeded to steal second and scored when Dave Brubaker's grounder which slipped through the infielder's leg for an error. Rogin's came back in the fifth and tied the game again as Pat Malzone scored on a See single. Boyle then got runners to second in the sixth.

Boyle brought the curtains down on the 1989 campaign with an enviable 10-1-1 won-lost-tied record.
